elios2 On Its Way

The first Progress Report of elios2 which presented an overview of the work done since the beginning of the Pilot Project has been published. You can find it at www.elios2.eu. Considering the large scale of research of the project, it has been necessary to clarify the key notions addressed, the terminology used and the orientations adopted.

This preliminary phase in the project has allowed us to establish some concrete results which can be achieved, some possible tools which will facilitate access to insurance by self-employed builders and small firms so as to stimulate innovation and the promotion of eco-technologies in the European Union, especially concerning cross border activities.

On its way...but towards what?

Work Package 1

Firstly, let us consider the quality signs which are being addressed in Work Package 1 (WP1). Some distinctions have been proposed in order to allow a typology and to facilitate an overview of the main signs used in the EU 27 countries.

The team has decided to adopt a pyramidal approach to strengthen the research on the quality signs that are market-driven, particularly on the signs commonly taken into account by the insurers.

This work could result in the creation of a detailed directory focused on the access to insurance. A limited number of signs are used today when an underwriter is asked to cover a risk linked to the construction sector, and this dedicated directory could potentially be quite exhaustive. The presentation should contain a critical analysis of the rationale and the relevance of the information provided by the signs and thus facilitate cross border activities.

What information is relevant?

Work Package 2

In the area of construction pathology, there could be an opportunity to initiate the creation of an "Eco-technologies Warning Procedure" ("Procedure d'alerte") for some specific eco-technologies.

Work Package 3

The core area being addressed in the Work Package 3 (WP3) is insurance schemes. The team is updating the information gathered during the elios2 pilot and will present a "market state of play" in order to highlight existing trends of the different insurance markets.

These issues are particularly important, bearing in mind that a recent Communication of the EC mentions the necessity to make preliminary recommendations about "insurance schemes to cover performance guarantees by small building contractors" (Communication from the Commission to the European Parliament and the Council: Strategy for the sustainable competitiveness of the construction sector and its enterprise, 31.7.2010, COM 2012-433).

I hope you find this newsletter useful and informative, we welcome any feedback you may have.
